

Media Release

For Immediate Release by Carrie Redman

Contact: Carrie Redman, AED for Business Operations and Development
(585) 593-5700 ext 514 – carrie.redman@thearcas.org

Celebrate “America 250” with Stitched INK’s New Collection

Bath, NY - Stitched INK proudly announces the launch of its newest Stitched INK Originals Collection, the “America 250” apparel line, created in honor of the United States’ Semiquincentennial celebration on July 4, 2026. This milestone marks 250 years of American independence, an extraordinary opportunity to reflect on our nation’s history, celebrate our freedoms, and look ahead with unity and pride.

This exclusive collection brings that spirit to life through a series of thoughtfully designed, high-quality apparel pieces that blend patriotism, creativity, and style. Featuring a diverse range of designs, from classic Americana themes to bold, modern expressions, the collection invites individuals and families alike to celebrate in a way that feels personal and meaningful.

As part of the Stitched INK Originals Collection, this release represents the organization’s continued commitment to creating purpose-driven apparel that tells a story. Every design is developed and produced by the Stitched INK team, a social enterprise of Arc Allegany-Steuben that provides meaningful employment opportunities for adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities (I/DD). Each piece not only celebrates America’s past and present but also reflects the inclusive future Stitched INK is helping to build.

“This collection is about more than commemorating a historic anniversary,” said Christopher Koehler, Arc Allegany-Steuben’s Vice President of Business Operations. “It’s about bringing people together through shared pride while showcasing the talents and contributions of our team. That’s what makes this collection truly special.” The “America 250” collection includes eight unique t-shirt designs printed on premium garments, along with a complementary line of commemorative hats. All items are crafted with quality, comfort, and style in mind, making them perfect for community events, family gatherings, and celebrations leading up to and beyond Independence Day 2026.

The collection will be available exclusively beginning May 18 through the Stitched INK Semiquincentennial storefront, offering customers a convenient online shopping experience: <https://usa250si.itemorder.com/>

Celebrate 250 years of independence with apparel that stands for something more. With Stitched INK, every purchase supports opportunity, inclusion, and community impact.

Achieve with us.®

About Stitched INK

Stitched INK is a social enterprise of The Arc Allegany Steuben, specializing in custom screen printing and embroidery. Dedicated to creating high-quality apparel while providing meaningful employment opportunities for people with intellectual and developmental disabilities, Stitched INK combines craftsmanship with purpose in every product it delivers.